

Curve of Forgetting

Research by Hermann Ebbinghaus in the late 1800s showed that learned material was quickly forgotten if not revisited often. With each revisit, we will maintain more of the material.