

Summer 2025

POLSC 625-ZA

East Asian Politics

Dr. Hyun Ji Rim

Online: June 9 – July 3

As the Indo-Pacific rises as a priority theater for US security and foreign policy, understanding international relations and security dynamics of the region has become necessary for understanding current strategic choices of the regional and global stakeholders. This course delves into the diplomatic, economic, and military relations among regional countries and analyses the historical and contemporary role of the United States in the region. The course examines the international relations of China, North Korea, South Korea, Japan, Taiwan, the United States, and other regional actors.

THIS COURSE IS PART OF THE POLITICS OF THE GLOBAL SOUTH TRACK!